DEATH TOLL IN FOREST FIRES MAY GO TO 800

Duluth, Minn., Oct. 15.—Reports today from relief workers, who are penetrating the area devastated by Sunday's forest fires indicated that the death toll may reach eight hundred.

Between five hundred and six hundred bodies have been recovered. It is deemed certain that many others will be found.

Thousands are homeless in the twenty-nine towns and villages that were wiped out or partially destroyed. Other thousands of settlers in the forest district are without shelter and food.

Approximately half a million acres were fire swept, according to information available today. The fire zone centered in Carlton, Lake St. Louis and Itasca counties.

Fires that sprang up late yesterday with a shift wind died out when they were forced back over the burned area.

Relief work was proceeding rapidly. Hundreds of coffins were sent to the stricken communities. Thousands of blankets and quantities of food, gathered by the Red Cross and state organizations were shipped last night and today.

Governor Burnquist was at Duluth today personally directing the work.

PEACE DEBATE IN HOUSE OF COMMONS WILL BE SQUELCHED

London, Oct. 15.—The house of commons assembled this afternoon and it was considered practically certain that Andrew Bonar Law, chancellor of the exchequer, would be asked to make a statement on the diplomatic and military situation.

It was believed unlikely that he would comply, in view of the pending interallied consultation. Premier Lloyd George will probably make such a statement within a few days. In this connection, the most radical members of the house, it is believed, may attempt to start a peace debate. If they do so the move will most certainly be squelched.

No debate on peace is wanted just now. It is significant that the European powers have so far not joined President Wilson in any formal declaration of their war aims.

They preferred to wait until the fortunes of war were very strongly in their favor.

Members of the British cabinet, it is understood, are determined to exact reparation from Germany that must include compensation for all damage done by submarines to merchantmen. Also it is stated "there must be no doubt about deciding the future of the German determination and the free choice of the people who live in the colonies."

When Lloyd George makes his address to parliament, he is expected to discuss the German colonies situation.

The allied governments, it was learned, must be guided together with the advice of their field commanders with regard to aims of granting an armistice, and the terms under which hostilities may be temporarily suspended. Any armistice, it is agreed, must be on terms under which it would be absolutely impossible for the Germans to imperil the allied armies after the armistice ended.

SIR ERIC GEDDES URGES AMERICA NOT TO RELAX

New York, October 15.—"We must not relax the muscles of our fighting arm nor our war effort in any anticipation of an early peace," Sir Eric Geddes, first lord of the British admiralty declared last night in the course of an appeal to the United States to speed its construction of the anti-U-boat craft.

CONFERENCE OF WOMEN OPENS

QUARANTINE AT CAMP SHERMAN IS NOW LIFTED

Camp Sherman, O., Oct. 15.—The influenza quarantine was lifted and the formation of the 95th division resumed here this morning.

Transfer from the depot brigade to the units of the 95th were begun, and 150 selected men were sent to the central officers training school at Camp Gordon, Ga.

Last night and up to six o'clock this morning there were 14 deaths in the base hospital, raising the total for the influenza epidemic to 855.

There were no new cases of influenza and 32 cases of mild pneumonia cases reported in the past 24 hours.

Among the deaths was that of Captain Charles Weintz, of Cincinnati. He was an assistant to Major C. R. Holmes, chief medical officer at the base hospital.

Military burial was given yesterday to eight more men who either have no relatives or the relatives did not claim the bodies.

"WIN THE WAR" CONVENTIONS

New York, Oct. 15.—Plans for a series of "Win the War for permanent peace" conventions to be held this fall and winter in every state in the union were announced here by the League to Enforce Peace. Conventions already scheduled include one at Columbus, Ohio. Former President William H. Taft, president of the league is on the program of the Ohio meetings.

RUMANIA MAY RE-ENTER WAR AGAINST HUNS

Washington, Oct. 15.—Rumania wants to re-enter the war against Germany. She will do so if:

President Wilson declares for recovery of Transylvania and other unredeemed provinces peopled by Rumanians.

The allies agree to furnish arms and ammunition to the Rumanian army stripped by Germany when she inflicted the enforced peace of Bucharest.

Bulgaria's collapse, the virtual elimination of Turkey from the war and the weakening of Austria-Hungary have encouraged Rumania to renew the struggle which she was forced to cut short when the Germans pressed the allies in the west and forced Russia out of the war.

President Wilson's latest declaration that the war must go on until German autocracy was wiped from the earth has aroused renewed hopes among Rumanian leaders.

Allied military aid will be available through the advance in the Balkans toward the Danube, military experts say. The Rumanian frontier will be reached within a few days at the present rate of advance.

Rumania's resumption of the war against the central powers would facilitate the reconstruction of the eastern front. It would open the way for the allied attack along the eastern frontier of Austria-Hungary and for penetration of Russia.

AMERICANS CROSS THE AIRE RIVER

With the American First Army, October 15.—Swinging into the third phase of the Argonne-Meuse battle, the Americans have crossed the Aire river, captured Romagne and Cunel and menace Chamepneulle, St. George and Landres.

The infantry attacked yesterday morning, after a terrific all night bombardment which bested the Germans out of their forward positions.

After the first jump the doughboys encountered deadly machine gun resistance, and their advance was also made more difficult by the nature of the terrain. They were last reported on the outskirts of St. Juvin, into which they were pushing.

In their advance with the French in the Champagne, the Americans gained more than 20 miles in the three days ending Sunday night. They now menace Rehel. General Gouraud has given high praise to the fighting units.

Germany's acceptance of President Wilson's 14 points failed to excite the soldiers. They were skeptical about accepting German words. The doughboys are not willing to quit unless victory is assured. They manifested confidence in Wilson's ability to handle the situation.

"Autocracy Must Go"

German Note Accepting Wilson's Terms and the President's Reply.

THE GERMAN NOTE.

The German government, in its reply to the recent note sent by President Wilson, accepts the terms laid down by the President in his address January 8, and subsequent addresses.

The text of the note follows:

"In reply to the questions of the president of the United States of America, the German government hereby declares:

"The German government has accepted the terms laid down by President Wilson in his address of January the eighth and in his subsequent addresses on the foundation of a permanent peace of justice. Subsequently its object in entering into discussions would be only to agree upon practical details of the application of these terms.

"The German government believes that the governments of the powers associated with the government of the United States also take the position taken by President Wilson in his address.

"The German government in accordance with the Austro-Hungarian government, for the purpose of bringing about an armistice, declares itself ready to comply with the propositions of the president in regard to evacuation.

"The German government suggests that the president may occasion the meeting of a mixed commission for making the necessary arrangements concerning the evacuation.

"The present German government, which has undertaken the responsibility for this step toward peace, has been formed by conference and in agreement with the great majority of the reichstag. The chancellor, supported in all of his actions by the will of this majority, speaks in the name of the German government and the German people.

"Berlin, October 12, 1918.
Signed, 'SOLE, State Secretary of foreign office.'"

THE PRESIDENT'S REPLY.

The text of the President's answer follows:

The unqualified acceptance by the present German government and by a large majority of the Reichstag of the terms laid down by the President of the United States of America in his address to the Congress of the United States on the 8th day of January, 1918, and in his subsequent addresses, justifies the President in making a frank and direct statement of his decision with regard to the communications of the German government of the 8th and 12th of October, 1918.

"It must be clearly understood that the process of evacuation and the conditions of an armistice are matters which must be left to the judgment and advice of the military advisers of the government of the United States and the allied governments, and the President feels it his duty to say that no arrangement can be accepted by the government of the United States which does not provide absolutely satisfactory safeguards and guarantees of the maintenance of the present military supremacy of the armies of the United States and the allies in the field.

"He feels confident that he can safely assume that this will also be the judgment and decision of the allied governments.

"The President feels that it is also his duty to add that neither the government of the United States nor, he is quite sure, the governments with which the government of the United States is associated as a belligerent will consent to consider an armistice so long as the armed forces of Germany continue the illegal and inhumane practices which they still persist in.

"At the very time that the German government approaches the Government of the United States with proposals of peace its submarines are engaged in sinking passenger ships at sea and not the ships alone, but the very boats in which their passengers and crews seek to make their way to safety; and in their present enforced withdrawal from Flanders and France, the German armies are pursuing a course of wanton destruction which has always been regarded as in direct violation of the rules and practices of civilized warfare.

"Cities and villages, if not destroyed, are being stripped of all they contain not only, but often of their very inhabitants. The nations associated against Germany can not be expected to agree to a cessation of arms while acts of inhumanity, spoliation and desolation are being continued which they justly look upon with horror and burning hearts.

"It is necessary, also, in order that there may be no possibility of misunderstanding, that the President should very solemnly call the attention of the government of Germany to the language and plain intent of one of the terms of peace which the German government has now accepted. It is contained in the address of the President at Mt. Vernon on the Fourth of July last. It is as follows:

"The destruction of every arbitrary power anywhere that can separately, secretly and of its single choice disturb the peace of the world; or, if it can not be presently destroyed, at least its reduction to virtual impotency."

"The power which has hitherto controlled the German nation is of the sort here described.

"It is within the choice of the German nation to alter it. The President's words just quoted naturally constitute a condition precedent to peace, if peace is to come by the action of the German people themselves. The President feels bound to say that the whole process of peace, will in his judgment, depend upon the definiteness and satisfactory character of the guarantees which can be given in this fundamental matter.

"It is indispensable that the governments associated against Germany should know beyond a peradventure with whom they are dealing. The President will make a separate reply to the royal and imperial government of Austria-Hungary.

"Accept, sir, the renewed assurances of my high consideration, (Signed) "ROBERT LANSING."

Mr. Frederick Oederlin, in charge of German interests in the United States."

"In a successful raid yesterday evening south of Sainghinewepes several prisoners were taken. A few prisoners were also taken during the night by patrols on other portions of the front."

ABDICATION OF KAISER FAVORED BY SOCIALISTS

Zurich, Oct. 15.—The socialist congress at Munich unanimously adopted a resolution favoring the abdication of the kaiser and the crown prince, according to the Munich Nachrichten.

London, Oct. 15.—President Wilson's reply to Germany is known to be eminently satisfactory to the British. The conditions he outlined coincide not only with the views of the British, but of the other allies as well. Lord Northcliffe's Evening News was the first paper to appear with Wilson's answer, which it printed in splashes of the biggest type, covering half a page.

Washington, Oct. 15.—Military men doubt that Germany can "stand the gaff" of American allied punishment, plus the Urge of peace much longer.

Frankly they think the peace question should be left strictly to the allied armies to finish. But they admit that the joint elements of enforced retreat and the promises of peace from their leaders are stretching the German morale to the breaking point.

War department information shows that the average German soldier is reaching the point where his mental process is about thus:

"Why should I fight hard to hold on to France and Belgium, when my masters have said they are ready to give it up? Why should I fight for the kaiser when he is the only real obstacle in the way of peace?"

BY ROBERT J. BENDER

United Press Staff Correspondent.

Washington, Oct. 15.—Kaiser Wilhelm must step down, or else his powers must be curtailed so that he is the merest figurehead before Germany can have peace.

That is the basis meaning behind President Wilson's "decision" with respect to a peace with the German people.

He can remove himself as the czar of Russia did long before him and as other monarchs have done since. He can be removed by the German people themselves—tired of his "god-given" exercise of power to kill them at will. Or the German people can quietly have an internal political reform which will wholly emasculate his powers to declare war and peace.

Previous to such momentous steps, however, it is extremely vital that sufficient guarantees be given that treachery will not cheat the allies of supremacy should an armistice come. These guarantees must include occupation of such strategic strongholds as Metz.

Germany must also eliminate the burst of extreme ruthlessness that has marked her military program more than usually in the past few weeks.

There will be no spirit of revenge if President Wilson's program succeeds, he holds that only the spirit of justice must prevail at the peace table.

As most authorities here saw the situation today, the German leaders have so instilled the idea of peace in the German people that it will not be long before the demand for peace crystallizes to the point where these people will take matters in their own hands.

That President Wilson expects farther discussion is evident from his liberty loan appeal last night, wherein he urged Americans to subscribe fully, at the same time saying:

"I earnestly request every patriotic American to leave to the governments of the United States and of the allies

the momentous discussions initiated by Germany.

Relaxation at this time, he said, would be fatal to victory.

Military men believe the peace discussion has shaken morale to its foundations in Germany and that plowing through France and Belgium from now on will be simplified.

One of President Wilson's official circle, who has carefully studied the peace problem, outlined the situation to the United Press thus:

German autocracy is beaten, knows it and throws itself on the mercy of President Wilson. But no chance will be taken with Prussian treachery. Before there is any armistice such terms must be arranged by the military and naval advisers as will render allied supremacy safe.

The card has probably been written already through the Versailles war council, in which, it now reveals, President Wilson has a vote by cable. Foch, Pershing and other army and navy commanders will see to it that Germany has absolutely no opportunity to gain any advantage through treachery.

The army and navy commanders must be satisfied, Wilson holds.

The war has now reached the third stage in the Wilsonian program. The first was to determine that Germany could not beat us and that we could beat Germany. That is settled. Germany knows we can beat her.

The second stage was to lay down the law, governing the meaning to the world of Germany's defeat. President Wilson has laid down the law in his January 8 and subsequent addresses. Germany has accepted the law thus laid down. The third stage, now reached, is application of the law.

If we were dealing with an honorable enemy that would be easy; but we deal with an enemy who must give safeguards as a bond for his word.

This bond can come only through acceptance of terms of the army and navy commanders, and destruction of military autocracy decreed in President Wilson's Mount Vernon address.

The president advisers believe that

OBITUARY OF JOHN ROY FRAME

John Roy Frame, son of John and Jane Frame, was born in Lawrence County, Ohio, August 14, 1894, and passed on to the great unknown September 30, 1918, at the early age of 24 years, 1 month, 16 days.

Last summer, he answered his country's call to service by enlisting in the U. S. navy and was sent to the Great Lakes Naval Training School. In a short time he was transferred to Hampton Roads, where he was stationed at the time of his death.

The news of his brief sickness and death came as quite a shock to his relatives and many friends, all of whom were much interested in his success in the cause for which he gave his life.

On February 18, 1908, he united with the Church of Christ at Grape Grove, thus answering the call of the Lord and Master to "Come unto me all ye that labor and are heavy laden and I will give you rest," willing to put his faith in one who would lead him along life's uneven journey, go with him through death's valley, and at last pilot him safely to that happy, golden shore of eternity.

He leaves to mourn his departure his father, mother, six brothers, two sisters and a host of relatives and friends, by all of whom he will be sadly missed, yet we bow in humble submission to that Higher Power and say "not our will but Thine be done."

Of the family, two of the boys are in the service, Corporal Millard O. Frame, with the American army in France, and George V. Frame at Camp Sherman.

The others are Thomas and Garret at home, Anns of Jamestown, James of Selma, William of Yellow Springs and Mrs. James Hosking of Springfield.

While seemingly his life's journey has been so short, yet we greatly honor his name and memory for his willingness to do his part and to make the supreme sacrifice that his country might not fail to continue to be the same grand nation which he loved so well.

CARD OF THANKS.

We desire to express our thanks to the many friends for the kindness shown us during the death of our loving son and brother, also for the beautiful floral offerings.

Crab's Keen Watch for Enemies.

The fiddler crabs of the Philippines have remarkably sharp eyes, and may be seen standing for perhaps fifteen minutes at a time with still, scanning the landscape for signs of their chief enemies—snakes, skunks, frogs, toads and fishes. Noise will not disturb them, but they beat a hasty retreat home if anything moves near, or boldly stand and frantically wave the big claw, being particularly angry if a lady crab comes near.

AUTOCRACY DOOMED

Germany will accept the president's "decision" and that the allies will concur in the president's course. They have indicated that in confidential exchanges. Reports to the president show that the allied working men are looking to him for leadership in a peace of justice—not a peace of revenge.

Meantime, it is of prime significance that the president will reply separately to Austria-Hungary, as forecast by the United Press. In this response, it is held likely he will continue his diplomatic flanking operations, designed to cut off this ally of Germany.

Austria-Hungary's acceptance of the "law" as laid down by President Wilson January 8, means virtual dismemberment of the Austro-Hungarian empire by the creation of two nations. This would dispose of most of Austria, except a German population portion next to Germany. Hungary would be cut off by herself, through grant of autonomy. With an independent Polish state, with Belgium restored and independent, with western Russia evacuated by the Germans, with the Czechoslovak and Lugo-Slav states established, Germany would be surrounded on every side by organized peoples.

"Mittel-Europa would go the way of bad dreams," say the president's friends. And Alsace-Lorraine must be returned to France, it is added semi-officially.

Congressional comment was for the most part enthusiastic. Senator Hitchcock: "I think the president has removed all doubts that have been expressed as to the wisdom of his course and provided against all the dangers that the critics have seen in the policy he has been pursuing."

Senator Benet: "President Wilson's reply has the punch in it."

Senator Sheppard: "It is a great document. It means the doom of the Hohenzollerns."

Senator Warren, father-in-law of Gen. Pershing: "I would have much preferred that the president had used the language 'unconditional surrender.'"

Senator Thomas: "The president's reply is admirable and adequate in every respect. It justifies his note of inquiry."

Senator Pittman: "It is the consummation of the president's diplomacy. I believe the German people will force the abdication of the kaiser and all of his militaristic supporters."

Senator Lodge: "I am very glad and genuinely pleased that the president takes the ground he does."

U. S. TRANSPORT AMERICA SINKS WHILE AT PIER

An Atlantic Port, October 15.—The transport America sank at her pier in 26 minutes today. All soldiers aboard escaped. A number of the members of the crew are missing.

Some place the total of those unaccounted for as high as forty. The sinking is believed to have been caused by accidental opening of the sea cocks by mechanics engaged in repairing.

The steamer America is of 22,622 tons, next to the Leviathan in size. She lies partly submerged, on her starboard side, having careened away from the river pier as she went down. Before the war she was the German liner Amerika.

A naval court of inquiry is to start an investigation immediately. Troops aboard the ship were forced to flee for their lives so hurriedly that many lost their equipment and personal belongings.

The soldiers were marched to a nearby camp, where they are being aided by Red Cross.

SOLDIERS WANT CHANCE TO LICK HUNS TO FINISH

London, October 15.—"We want a chance to lick Germany to a finish," "We don't want an armistice, the minute we've got 'em running," "We don't want to listen to them yelling 'enough' the minute they realize: walloping is due them."

These were the replies of many American soldiers and sailors from all parts of the United States when they were interviewed on the Strand, at the American Y. M. C. A. Eagle hut.

C. R. Carlson and James Lowmy, fresh from the Rheims battle field, declared the allies ought not to quit before invading Germany and giving it a taste of its own medicine.

"It's a good thing, of course, to save American lives, but I'd like to give Germany a good dose of her own medicine," declared J. W. Meister of Detroit.

"I'd like a show down before an armistice," said Sergt. A. Creder, of Indianapolis.

WHAT WAR MOVES MEAN

BY J. W. T. MASON.

New York, Oct. 15.—An armistice permitting Von Hindenburg to retire unmolested to the German frontier would give the kaiser one of the major successes of the war.

The heroic struggle of the American forces north of Verdun is threatening to cut one of the two avenues of retreat for the German armies in France.

Luxemburg, by protesting today to President Wilson against the further occupation of her soil by German troops, shows a complete understanding in the little Buchy of America's advance down the Meuse.

Luxemburg knows the Americans are closing on the famous Stenay line of communications, so necessary for Von Hindenburg's safe retirement to Germany.

While Gen. Pershing is blocking the way to the German frontier to the glory of American arms, the kaiser appeals to President Wilson to let Von Hindenburg's defeated armies pass through Pershing's line unscathed. The only alternative for Von Hindenburg is to fight his way home. His forces are too large and too unwieldy to try to make a run for it. They would be overwhelmed and thrown into devastating confusion.

It is three months ago today since the Americans threw the Germans back across the Meuse and started them on their disastrous retirement. Since then Von Hindenburg has gone less than half the way home and has lost at least a million men. He must continue to fight his own battle, involving even that a great disaster involving a quarter of a million more casualties might overtake him.

Behind these losses of human material, Von Hindenburg cannot get home without abandoning vast stores of munitions and guns to the allies, unless he is given a free passage.

Von Hindenburg is being forced to new reserve army to oppose the American invasion of Germany. His plan to accomplish this shortening his line and saving six thousand men per mile has been destroyed by the ceaseless attacks of Marshal Foch during the past three months. If Von Hindenburg is given no armistice he will have less men per mile when he gets back to Germany than he had when he began his retreat. The only way the Rhine reserve army to oppose the Americans can be created is by means of an armistice permitting Von Hindenburg to withdraw from France and Belgium, taking his men and guns with him.

Once inside his own territory, Von Hindenburg would immediately organize his Rhine reserves. The kaiser could then prolong the war at least another year, hoping in the meantime for a favorable peace.

An armistice is Germany's last weapon against America. Terrorism has failed, submarine piracy has failed and Von Hindenburg has failed in a stand-up fight against Gen. Pershing.

Only the note waved at President Wilson remains to be knocked down. After that will come unconditional surrender.

GIRLS! HAVE WAVY, THICK GLOSSY HAIR FREE FROM DANDRUFF

Save your hair! Double its beauty in a few moments—try this!

If you care for heavy hair, that glistens with beauty and is radiant with life; has an incomparable softness and is fluffy and lustrous, try Danderine.

Just one application doubles the beauty of your hair, besides it immediately dissolves every particle of dandruff; you cannot have nice, heavy, healthy hair if you have dandruff. This destructive scurf robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life, and if not overcome it produces a feverishness and itching of the scalp; the hair roots flail, loosen and die; then the hair falls out fast.

If your hair has been neglected and is thin, faded, dry, scraggy or too oily, get a small bottle of Knowlton's Danderine at any drug store or toilet counter for a few cents; apply a little as directed and ten minutes after you will say this was the best investment you ever made.

We sincerely believe, regardless of everything else advertised, that if you desire soft, lustrous, beautiful hair and lots of it—no dandruff—no itching scalp and no more falling hair—you must use Knowlton's Danderine. If eventually—why not now?

Good Reasons for Talking.

John talked continually, so one day his mother losing patience said: "I do wish you would keep still. What makes you talk so much all the time?" He answered quickly: "It's got to talk."

FIRST WOUNDED XENIA SOLDIER RETURNS HOME

The first wounded Xenia soldier to return home from the battle front in France, is Wade Allen, a colored lad, son of Mrs. Rachael Allen of 29 Hall street, who has been furloughed home to recover from a shattered left arm.

Allen was among the first colored selective men who left Greene county, and he is being greeted as the first man to come back to Xenia who has been through some of the fiercest fighting at the front, and has come back home.

"I wouldn't take a fortune for my experiences," says Allen, who, however, is reticent about speaking of things through which he passed in France.

He was a sharpshooter, and the bones of his wrist and left forearm were shattered. He was permitted to come home on a thirty day furlough from the base hospital at Rahway, N. J., and while he is here, he is required to report each morning to the local draft board.

The transport which carried him to France, left New York last June 10, and he was returned, wounded, on the hospital ship "The Great Northern," Sept. 13. He was taken to the hospital at Ellis Island and treated for a week, and then was transferred to the hospital at Rahway, New Jersey, where he is being treated for the wounded arm.

When he left this country he belonged to the 365th Regiment, Company C. Shortly after he got overseas he was detailed a sharpshooter and transferred to the 15th Division. Aside from his wounded arm he looks very well and makes a fine appearance.

Ten men absent without leave from the army post at Wilberforce, were given a night in the custody of Sheriff Jackson at the county jail, and returned to the post under an escort of military police Sunday morning.

The A. W. O. L. were picked up on the streets by military police, Sunday morning Captain Ostermaier, commandant of the post, with military police arrived at the jail, and the ten men were marched back to Wilberforce along the pike, under the escort of the military police, and with the commandant riding at the head of the procession. Only three of the absent without leave men were uniformed, the others being recent arrivals at the post.

Get the Habit of Drinking Hot Water
Before Breakfast

Says we can't look or feel right with the system full of poisons.

Millions of folks bathe internally now instead of loading their system with drugs. "What's an inside bath?" you say. Well, it is guaranteed to perform miracles if you could believe these hot water enthusiasts.

There are vast numbers of men and women who, immediately upon arising in the morning, drink a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it. This is a very excellent health measure. It is intended to flush the stomach, liver, kidneys and the thirty feet of intestines of the previous day's waste, sour bile and indigestible material left over in the body which if not eliminated every day, become food for the millions of bacteria which infest the bowels, the quick result is poisons and toxins which are then absorbed into the blood causing headache, bilious attacks, foul breath, bad taste, colds, stomach trouble, kidney misery, sleeplessness, impure blood and all sorts of ailments.

People who feel good one day and badly the next, but who simply can not get feeling right are urged to obtain a quarter pound of limestone phosphate at the drug store. This will cost very little but is sufficient to make anyone a real crank on the subject of internal sanitation.

Just as soap and hot water act on the skin, cleansing, sweetening and refreshing, so limestone phosphate and hot water act on the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels. It is vastly more important to bathe on the inside than on the outside, because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the body while the bowel pores do.

PUNISHING HUNS SANC-TIONED BY U. S. PRECE-DENT.

It is not a pleasant task delving back into one of the unhappiest incidents of the Civil War at a time when the wounds of those ill-starred days are healed and the united nation is fighting the greatest battle of all history, but it has been necessary to pore once more over the War Department's "record of Rebellion" to cite clearly the American precedent for dealing out condign punishment to German commanders, no matter what their station, for acts of criminal misconduct in connection with the war.

In the arrest, trial and execution of the keeper of the Andersonville prison for acts in violation of the rules of civilized warfare the Federal military authorities of the United States proclaimed to the world in 1865 the doctrine that enemy officers found guilty of atrocious crimes could be hanged, regardless of the general freedom granted to officers and men of a surrendering force.

This is the precedent—if one were needed—which is being relied upon at this time to justify the demand which is rising all over the country that there shall be no peace with Germany until the Allies and the United States are in a position to dictate that in addition to the kaiser himself there shall be rendered up to Allied and American justice members of the high military and naval commands for the multitude of foul deeds which have marked the course of this unprecedented war.

The keeper of the Andersonville,
Ga., prison, generally referred to as Major Henry Wirz, was really a captain in the Confederate service. He was a Swiss and the Swiss consul general in Washington at the time made a strong plea to President Johnson to save the condemned man, who was referred to as merely a tool and the instrument of a vicious system which had its inspiration "higher up"
in the councils of the Confederacy.

Wirz was arrested at Andersonville, in May, 1865, after the Federal forces had occupied that part of Georgia. He was tried by a military commission of nine army officers. The victims of Wirz infamous treatment of Union soldier prisoners were so numerous that their evidence and the trial lasted two months. He was found guilty and executed on the gallows. Wirz thought to escape all responsibility for his acts in the general sort of amnesty which was agreed to in the terms of surrender of the Confederate General Johnston, under whose command he was serving. It was agreed in the terms of surrender that all officers and men should be permitted to return to their homes, not to be disturbed by the United States authorities so long as they observed their obligations and the laws in force where they resided.

Thus the precedent was set that the rank and file of German soldiers may be left free to go to their homes, while officers accused of violation of the rules of civilized warfare may be picked out and punished in accordance with their crimes.

Wirz was brought to Washington and confined in the old Capitol Prison, on Capitol Hill. He was tried by what was to all intents and purposes
a court-martial, but which was termed a "military commission" by President Johnson, who convened it. The Wirz trial closely followed that of the assassins of President Lincoln and is linked with it in importance in all the records of that time.

that attention is praiseworthy.

"THE WIFE"

BY JANE PHELPS

RUTH IS DISGUSTED WITH CLAUDE BECKLY AND HIS FAMILIARITY
CHAPTER LXII

As a hope Ruth played a very good game of bridge. But she was so disgusted with Claude Beckly, so annoyed by his calling her 'Ruth,' that she could not put her mind upon what she was doing and made many blunders. Consequently, Mollie and Brian won very easily.

"What ailed you? I never saw you play such a rotten game," Brian said as he gathered up the cards after their game had left.

"The very idea of that Beckly calling me 'Ruth!' I nearly died!"

"Would you have felt the same had you been called 'Mandel,' called you
'Ruth'?"

"He wouldn't do such a thing.
What has that got to do with it, anyway?"

"Oh, nothing, only I was wondering."

"Do you mean, Brian Hackitt, that you think it all right for Mr. Beckly to call me 'Ruth' when I have met him scarcely half a dozen times; and when he spends his breath telling me how nice I am because I let you and Miss King do as you like and don't make a scene? He's common, vulgar! I don't see how you can stand for such people."

"No—Beckly is neither common nor vulgar—really. Part of it is a pose, and some of it is habit. No—you don't understand his sort, Ruth. But he isn't a bad fellow."

"He may not be a bad fellow, but I shall not have him here again. His familiarity is disgusting to me. I never want to see him again. Did you hear him hint to be asked again?"

"Yes, he's pretty hard up, and a good dinner isn't to be despised when one is in that condition. It WAS a good dinner, Ruth. And they both enjoyed it."

"I'm glad if you were pleased," Ruth did not quite realize it, but had she acted pleased to have Claude Beckly call her 'Ruth,' Brian would have resented it and have been jealous. But the fact that she did resent it—that she showed her dislike for Beckly so plainly, made Brian feel that he could safely have Beckly around when he was with Mollie.
He had been most circumspect all the evening. Mollie had taken her cue from him, and not a word or look had passed between them that could possibly have been construed to mean intimacy.

"Of course no one would believe that I cared anything for Mollie—that is, in any way I ought not," Brian had thought, "but Ruth might imagine things because I have taken Mollie out several times, so I will be careful."

Ruth, knowing nothing of what was passing in Brian's mind, was convinced that she had been uselessly jealous.

"Brian was lonely," she thought.
"He only took her out for company, not because he cared particularly for her," and she hugged this idea because it eased her mind.

When Ruth looked at her one letter the next morning, at breakfast, she gave a little smile of delight.

"Oh, Brian! Rachel is coming! She leaves day after tomorrow. I am so glad." Tears of joy came into her eyes.

"Have you told Crawford?"

"Oh, yes, she understands. She has known ever since she has been with us that as soon as Rachel could come she was to go. She is going with Mrs.
Curtis."

"I'm—hope she won't blab all she knows about us."

"Why, there's nothing to tell, Brian.
We don't quarrel, nor gossip about people. What else is there she could say that you would care about?"

"Oh, she might talk about how hard up we were when she first came to us
—before you got your job," the sarcastic tone creeping into his voice as it always did when he spoke of Ruth's work.

"Nonsense! You can't understand what having Rachel means to me, Brian. She has been with me ever since I was a tiny girl, had entire care of me. It is like having a mother come to me."

"Perhaps she will be discontented She'll find a New York flat very different from Mrs. Clayborne's plantation, and being the only servant also some change from a house where there are so many."

Brian could not have explained the feeling he had about Rachel. Yet he wished she were not coming. Her eyes were very sharp. She idolized Ruth, as he knew. He would feel she was watching him, making "sure" she was doing all he could to make Ruth happy. Not that he wasn't, but the SCALES!

didn't like the idea of criticism, especially from a servant.

"Oh, she'll be happy with me!"
Ruth replied. Nothing could make her sad now that Rachel was surely coming.

"I hope so! It would be too bad to lose Crawford and then have Rachel want to go back."

WEAK, RUN DOWN WOMAN

Tells How Vinol Made Her Strong.
So, Kaukauna, Wis., "I was weak, all run down, tired all the time, and had Asthma so I could hardly keep around and do my housework. After everything else had failed to help me, Vinol built me up and made me well and strong."—Mrs. Jay Parker.

The reason Vinol was so successful in Mrs. Parker's case, is because it contains the necessary elements to create an appetite, aid digestion, make pure blood and create strength. It is the beef and cod liver peptones—iron and glycerophosphates in Vinol—that does it—you will not be disappointed
if you try it.

Salve stops itching. We guarantee it.

STOMACH OFF—BUT GAINED TWENTY-FIVE POUNDS IN TWO MONTHS.

Mrs. G. Followed the Advice of a Friend and Took Pepsinco.

For many years Mrs. G. suffered with indigestion. She could get no help. She doctored and took almost every remedy friends would suggest, but got little relief. She lost in weight till she was apparently nothing but skin and bone. What she ate caused misery and pain. She would bloat and was seldom without headache. Nothing agreed with her.
She would get up with a bad taste, coated tongue and a feeling of dizziness. The sight—the odor of savory foods nauseated
her. She passed the day in misery and went to bed tired, worn-out and hungry.

A friend finally prevailed on Mrs. G. to try Pepsinco, which she did. A small package proved to her that it was what she needed. In two months time she gained her normal weight and gives credit to Pepsinco.

MOTORAIDS

Motor gloves for women are now all of the gauntlet type. The palm and inside of the fingers are made of beautifully soft kid, while the outside of the hand is of fine quality of silk.
This makes the part of the glove very durable where the greater wear is encountered and also makes them more comfortable for fall wear, having the silk back.

Some gloves a saw recently are the last word in correct and elegant sport gloves. One pair was of chamamois and silk, all in the yellow chamamois color,
and of the most beautiful texture.
The chamamois is as soft as the silk and the gloves may be easily rolled and slipped in a small pocket of dress or coat.

The other gloves I saw came with a palm of white kid and silk back in all the sport colors, such as cerise, blue, green, yellow and tan. Gloves with wrist straps are made with the softest of tan kid palms and silk backs, of tan ornamented with heavy black stitching and wrist strap, which is adjustable to any size wrist.

DRINK HOT TEA
FOR A BAD COLD

Get a small package of Hamburg
Breast Tea, or as the German folks call it, "Hamburger Brust Thee," at any pharmacy. Take a tablespoonful of the tea, put a cup of boiling water upon it, pour through a sieve and drink a teacup full at any time during the day or before retiring. It is the most effective way to break a cold and cure grip, as it opens the pores of the skin, relieving congestion. Also loosens the bowels, thus driving a cold from the system.

Try it the next time you suffer from a cold or the grip. It is inexpensive and entirely vegetable, therefore safe and harmless.

THE OHIO HOME RULE ASSOCIATION, in its published advertisements, makes such taunts as the following:

"In France today there is no restraint on the liberty of a million and a half American soldiers to decide for themselves whether they want to drink beer or wine."

GENERAL JOHN J. PERSHING says:

"Banish the entire liquor industry from the United States;
close every saloon, every brewery; suppress drinking by severe punishment to the drinker, and, if necessary, death to the seller, or maker, or both, as traitors, and the nation will suddenly find itself amazed at its efficiency, and startled at the increase in its labor supply. I shall not go slow on prohibition, for I know what is the greatest foe to my men, greater even than the bullets of the enemy."

THEODORE ROOSEVELT says:

"I may mention that my sons who are now in the army in France write me most strongly (just as General Pershing has expressed his opinion most strongly) as to the harm done to the men of the army by permitting the sale of liquor to them, stating that they believe in absolute prohibition for the army in war time—and one of them adding that his experience has made a permanent prohibitionist of him."

their persistent offensive attitude are inviting their final and permanent doom.

TO be sure of rich, fragrant coffee, buy from your grocer. Do not patronize the peddler whose coffee may be of poor quality, dirty and stale. He takes your money out of town, anyway.

Pride in your home town should prompt you to buy from your grocer for he helps make your town what it is. Buy dustless, chaffless Golden Sun. Try its delightful flavor.

FIVE HUNDRED GREENE CO. BOYS NOW IN FRANCE

According to George Galloway, of the Greene county draft board, there are approximately 500 Greene county soldiers in France.

Dr. W. A. Galloway, head of the local Christmas committee, is with his colleagues, already busy making preparations to send these soldiers Christmas remembrances.

There are nearly 2,000,000 American soldiers overseas. If each were allowed a 20 pound package the total would amount to 20,000 tons.

Transportation and distribution difficulties after the parcels are received in France have compelled the government to limit the weight of the Xmas parcel that may be sent to any soldier to three pounds.

Postmaster Rice has just received the official order, covering the subject. It reads:

October 5, 1918.
The War Department is desirous that each man serving in the American Expeditionary Forces in Europe shall receive a remembrance from home at Christmas time, and advises that because of transportation and distribution difficulties but one parcel of standard size and weight can be sent to each. To this end arrangements have been made with the War Department whereby Christmas parcels may be mailed to members of the American Expeditionary Forces in Europe under the following conditions:

1. Each soldier or other member of the Expeditionary Forces in Europe will be allowed to receive one Christmas parcel for which purpose he will be furnished, through army channels, a "Christmas Parcel Label" bearing the correct name and address of the soldier or member and also the name of the person designated to mail the parcel. The labels will be prepared to serve as address labels for the parcels. The label furnished each soldier or other member of the American Expeditionary Forces will be sent by him to the person who is to mail the Christmas parcel. No Christmas parcel for members of the Expeditionary Forces in Europe will be accepted for transmission without such label.

2. All Christmas parcels must be of standard size, 3 inches by 4 inches by 9 inches and shall not exceed 3 pounds in weight, for which purpose cartons of the size prescribed will be distributed through the local Red Cross Chapters throughout the country. No person will be furnished a carton except upon presentation of a "Christmas Parcel Label" received from abroad.

3. The parcels must contain no prohibited or unmailable articles. Perishable food products are not permitted.

4. After the cartons have been filled by the persons who receive them, they shall be returned to a Red Cross receiving station where inspectors appointed by the Red Cross will carefully examine each parcel and supervise its wrapping and the affixing of the "Christmas Parcel Label" and the necessary postage stamps, the latter to be furnished by the sender of the parcel. When the parcels have thus been packed and wrapped and otherwise prepared for transmission, the Red Cross will affix to each parcel a certificate in the form of a seal showing that the parcel has been inspected and contains no prohibited or unmailable matter. Such certificates will be accepted by the Postal Service and Army authorities as evidence that the parcels conform to the conditions prescribed and obviate the necessity of subsequent examination. The parcels must be left at the Red Cross receiving stations which will deposit them in the mails for dispatch.

5. Christmas parcels must bear the name and address of the sender and will be addressed substantially as follows:

"Christmas Box Department, Port of Embarkation, Hoboken, N. J.

XENIA GIRL HAS SAD EXPERIENCE

Death followed quickly upon the footsteps of a bride, Mrs. Harry McMullen, a college chum of Miss Anne Weaver, whose wedding she attended in Allentown, Penn., a week ago last Saturday.

Arising from a sick bed, the bride, who was Miss May Wise, Miss Weaver's second year roommate at Mary Baldwin College, Staunton, Va., went through with the wedding, an imposing ceremony, with a large number of guests.

She then went on her wedding trip, was taken ill of pneumonia and died the following Thursday in Philadelphia. Miss Weaver received word of her death after her return home. From Allentown, Miss Weaver went on to Orange, N. J., and expected to visit in New York, but upon learning that two girl friends whom she expected to visit there, were both seriously ill, she returned home.

YOU CAN FORCE UNCON- DITIONAL SURRENDER BY BUYING BONDS

"Unconditional surrender," the only term of peace which the American people has expressed itself as willing to accept, is being echoed back from the factories of England and battlefields of France.

"Unconditional surrender" will be the only term that the Liberty loan solicitors will use this week in asking you to lend your dollars.

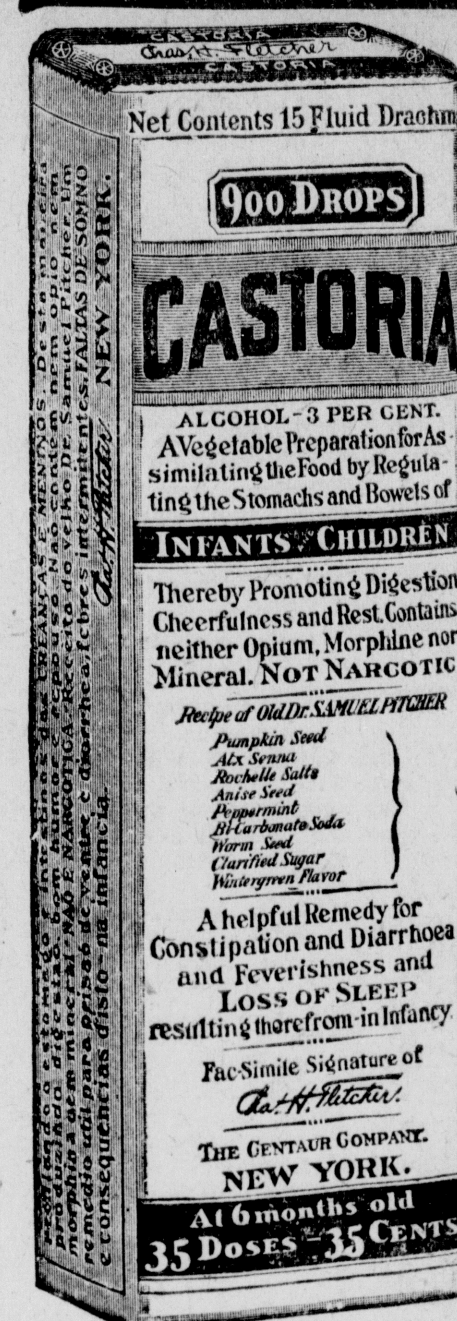

"Unconditional surrender" of every dollar that can be placed in a bond is the only thing that citizens who are clamoring for the defeat of Germany can say.

It is now up to the citizens, who are fighting with all their power for the victory, to make these terms possible.

"Unconditional surrender," says the voice of the army. It is now up to the army at home to say the same thing. Liberty bonds speak for themselves.

Delivery Problem in Java.
One thing impressed me in Rutenzorg: the marvelous balance pole method of transportation, everything, from babies to dried fish, being swung on two baskets or platforms attached to a plant pole resting on the shoulders or back of the neck. William Barbe writes in Asia Magazine. Up the path to our veranda pattered peripatetic department stores, the great twin piles of garish notions, mostly "made in Germany," coming to rest as the floor-walker and owner squatted between them. Far more attractive were the dual piles of bright-colored fruit, papayas, rambutans, salaks, the acid bilimbi, and, finally the durian and mangosteen as examples of opposite ends of the gustatory gamut. The percentage demanded by the money lenders made of their balance poles the vilest parody of the scales of justice. One of the last glimpses of Rutenzorg's street showed an ambulatory restaurant, with a red-hot stove in one swing and in the other a pile of dishes and vials which would have done credit to a Child's waitress.

Advice Soldiers Need Not Take.
Sergeant, the French for which is sergeant, the Italian sergente, comes from the medieval Latin word serviens, meaning a servant, a vassal, or a vassal soldier who seems to have acted as an orderly or striker. Tell this to your sergeant some warm day when he criticises your appearance on parade in his coarse, unfeeling manner. It will soften him. It may even melt him.—New York Evening Post.

SPANISH INFLUENZA--WHAT IT IS AND HOW IT SHOULD BE TREATED

Nothing New—Simply the Old Grip, or La Grippe, That Was Epidemic in 1889-90, Only Then It Came From Russia by Way of France and This Time by Way of Spain.

Go to Bed and Stay Quiet—Take a Laxative—Eat Plenty of Nourishing Food—Keep Your Strength—Nature Is the Cure.

ALWAYS CALL A DOCTOR

NO OCCASION FOR PANIC.

Spanish influenza, which appeared in Spain in May, has all the appearance of grip or la grippe, which has swept over the world in numerous epidemics as far back as history runs. Hippocrates refers to an epidemic in 412 B. C. which is regarded by many to have been influenza. Every century has had its attacks. Beginning with 1831, this country has had five epidemics, the last in 1889-90.

There is no occasion for panic—Influenza itself has a very low percentage of fatalities—not over one death out of every four hundred cases, according to the N. C. Board of Health. The chief danger lies in complications arising, attacking principally patients in a run down condition—those who don't go to bed soon enough, or those who get up too early.

THE SYMPTOMS.

Grippe, or influenza as it is now called, usually begins with a chill followed by aching, feverishness and sometimes nausea and dizziness, and a general feeling of weakness and depression. The temperature is from 100 to 104, and the fever usually lasts from three to five days. The germs attack the mucous membrane, or lining of the air passages—nose, throat and bronchial tubes—there is usually a hard cough, especially bad at night, often times a sore throat or tonsillitis, and frequently all the appearances of a severe head cold.

THE TREATMENT.

Go to bed at the first symptoms, not only for your own sake but to avoid spreading the disease to others—take a purgative, eat plenty of nourishing food, remain perfectly quiet and don't worry. Quinine, aspirin or Dover's Powder, etc., may be administered by the physician's directions to relieve the aching. But there is no cure or specific for influenza—the disease must run its course, but nature will throw off the attack if only you keep up your strength. The chief danger lies in the complications which may arise. Influenza so weakens the bodily resistance that there is danger of pneumonia or bronchitis developing, and sometimes inflammation of the middle ear, or heart affections. For these reasons, it is very important that the patient remain in bed until his strength returns—stay in bed at least two days or more after the fever has left you, or if you are over 50 or not strong, stay in bed four days or more, according to the severity of the attack.

EXTERNAL APPLICATIONS.

In order to stimulate the lining of the air passages to throw off the grippe germs, to aid in loosening the phlegm and keeping the air passages open, thus making the breathing easier, Vick's VapoRub will be found effective. Hot, wet towels should be applied over the throat, chest and back between the shoulder blades to open the pores. Then VapoRub should be rubbed in over the parts until the skin is red, spread on thickly and covered with two thicknesses of hot flannel cloths. Leave the clothing loose around the neck as the heat of the body liberates the ingredients in the form of vapors. These vapors, inhaled with each breath, carry the medication directly to the parts affected. At the same time, VapoRub is absorbed thru and stimulates the skin, attracting the blood to the surface, and thus aids in relieving the congestion within.

HOW TO AVOID THE DISEASE.

Evidence seems to prove that this is a germ disease, spread principally by human contact, chiefly thru coughing, sneezing or spitting. So avoid persons having colds, which means avoiding crowds—common drinking cups, roller towels, etc. Keep up your bodily strength by plenty of exercise in the open air, and good food. Above all, keep free from colds, as colds irritate the lining of the air passages and render them much better breeding places for the germs.

Use Vick's VapoRub at the very first sign of a cold. For a head cold, melt a little VapoRub in a spoon and inhale the vapors, or better still, use VapoRub in a benzoin steam kettle. If this is not available, use an ordinary tea kettle. Fill half full of boiling water, put in half a teaspoon of VapoRub from time to time—keep the kettle just slowly boiling and inhale the steam arising.

NOTE. Vick's VapoRub is the discovery of a North Carolina druggist, who found how to combine, in salve form, Menthol and Camphor with such volatile oils as Eucalyptus, Thyme, Cubeb, etc., so that when the salve is applied to the body heat, these ingredients are liberated in the form of vapors.

VapoRub is comparatively new in New York State and New England and a few Western states where it is just now being introduced, but in the other sections of the country it is the standard home remedy in over a million homes for all forms of cold troubles. Over six million jars were sold last year. It is particularly recommended for children's croup or colds, since it is externally applied and therefore can be used as freely as desired without the slightest harmful effects. VapoRub can be had in three sizes at all druggists.

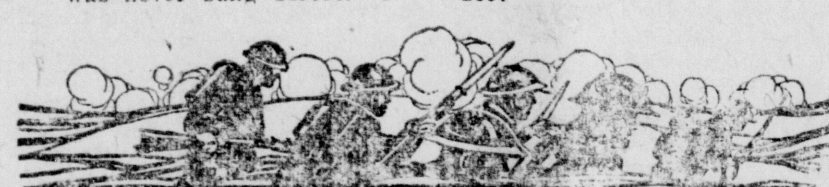

AYE BOY WE WILL
By Harold McGrath

near the Battle Hymn of the Republic, and I have goose-pimples. "Oh boy, where do we go from here?" I laugh, with a tight feeling in my throat.

Lean, lithe, tanned, swinging boys. The whites of their eyes are clear, their skins glow. Lord, the fresh life of them!

On, on, through aisles of plane trees. Sometimes a boy turns his head westward. What's he thinking of as he hears the Hell on earth! Folks back home. He isn't thinking in terms of Liberty Bonds. He's just sort of wondering if we're going to stick behind him.

BEFORE God, we are, boy! And the only way we can stick is to buy bonds. You are giving your life. What the devil do we care about our dollars? You'll get your coffee and slum if we have to pawn the shirts off our backs. That's the way we feel today. Never you doubt it. Six billion dollars! Will we give it? Wait and see!

INFLUENZA TAKES FIRST VICTIM AT WILPERFORCE CAMP

Private Jacob Boxberger of Russell, Kansas, a member of the medical corps, at the army post at Wilperforce, Tuesday died at the Tawawa Hospital, Tuesday forenoon of pneumonia. His death is the first that has occurred at the post and is the first serious case of pneumonia that has developed there.

Private Andrew Gorman of Amiot, Kan., another member of the medical corps, is very low of pneumonia. His father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Porter Gorman, are with him, having arrived Tuesday morning. He was assigned to Wilperforce about a week ago, and was ill with a cold when he arrived. Both men are white.

The body of Private Boxberger was turned over to Undertaker J. H. Whitmer to prepare for shipment to the soldier's home.

Private Boxberger had been in the medical corps one month, and was at Wilperforce for three weeks. He was taken ill of influenza September 24, and bronchial pneumonia developed four days ago.

There are a number of cases of what is termed severe colds, among the men in the Student Army Training Corps at Wilperforce, but it is understood that none of them have become serious. Part of Galloway Hall has been turned into a ward for convalescents. There has been very little illness among the men in the army mechanical training post at Wilperforce.

In order to separate the college hospital from the army post, a residence on the Kendall farm is being converted into a base hospital. This is not owing to lack of present accommodations, but in order to protect the college.

A Miss Young of Oklahoma, a student at Wilperforce college, is said to be dangerously ill of pneumonia.

Miss Virginia Steel of Chicago, a graduate nurse from Wilperforce, arrived at the University Tuesday morning to assist in nursing the sick. Lieutenant Kater, the medical officer in charge at Wilperforce, has been working very hard among the men and has succeeded in preventing any more serious cases developing.

FORMER XENIAN DIES SUDDENLY IN DAYTON MONDAY

Marion Frank, aged 55, of McLain street, Dayton, formerly a resident of Xenia, died suddenly of heart trouble in Dayton, Monday night. He has several relatives residing in Xenia.

His death was due to heart trouble, believed to have been greatly aggravated by worry over a son who is in France.

He died suddenly on the street where he had been taken by a couple of sympathetic men when he became ill in a restaurant.

Frank, who was employed at the plant of the Dayton Metal Products company, had just seated himself at the counter in an East Fifth street restaurant when he became ill. At his request he was assisted outside. He died before his companions realized the seriousness of the attack and before the arrival of the police ambulance.

The victim was a long time member of Daytonerie of Eagles and was well known about the city. Several relatives survive.

Opportunity to Be Seized.

A porter in London was engaged in cleaning a luggage van, when the door swung back, striking him violently on the head. "Oh! Pat," he exclaimed to an Irishman standing on the platform, "I believe I've cut open my head." "Well, begor, now's the time to get something into it," was Pat's witty reply.

LIBERTY LOAN WORKERS ARE 'HARD AT IT'

The Liberty Loan workers in Greene county are "hard at it," and if any one escapes them in the closing days of the campaign they will have to step along some. "No one shall escape," and "Buy More Bonds" are the twin slogans of the liberty loan committee.

There is no doubt but what it will take a hard pull and a pull altogether to put the county over and the committee urges each worker to put every ounce of his vim and enthusiasm into his work in the closing days of the campaign. The grand total of the county sales are gradually creeping upward but the final goal is still a long way off and the grade is getting steeper every day. Many people are increasing their subscriptions and many others are going into debt to help Uncle Sam in his hour of need. It is up to you to help if you possibly can.

Thus far only four townships in the county have gone over the top. However several are very near the goal and a number of them expect to go over within a day or two.

While there is less danger now than there was a week ago of Greene county failing in this drive the committee gives out the warning that everyone who can possibly buy bonds must do so. Townships which have gone over must not relax in their efforts but must sell "More Bonds" until the campaign closes.

CONDUCTORET KILLED.
Cleveland, O., Oct. 15.—Bertha Mann, conductoret was killed today. A car on the opposite track hit her while she was attempting to put the trolley on her car.

Bicycle to Travel on Water.
A unique device produced by a Jersey City inventor is a water bicycle. At first sight the machine looks like a bicycle, with sleigh runners instead of wheels; but it carries, also, two large air tanks to support both machine and rider. It is said to be nonsinkable.

HOW GERMANY MAY DEMOCRATIZE

Elimination or emasculation of military autocracy in Germany—the prime requisite for peace, according to President Wilson—means a radical amendment to the German constitution, placing the war and peace making powers in the hands of the people.

This amendment can be secured by legislative act by a bill passed through the Bundesrat or council, which is the upper house of the German parliament, and then through the reichstag, which is now in session.

The Bundesrat is composed of 61 members, appointed by the individual kingdoms, duchies, etc., of the empire, and the people have no votes in their selection. The reichstag, however, is supposed to be selected by popular manhood suffrage and this body, which is growing in democratic strength and boldness, can pass a constitutional amendment providing fourteen members of Bundesrat do not vote against it.

Since the reichstag has been assuming a noteworthy opposition to the military autocracy in recent weeks, it is held likely they will soon begin a fight for the legislative enactment necessary to rid Germany of kaiser power and clear the path for peace.

Teaching Canaries to Sing Tune.

Canaries may be taught to sing a tune, such as, "A Life on the Ocean Wave," by repeatedly singing to them in falsetto, or even to speak a few words. Once in a while (though rarely) a female canary turns out a fine singer.

ALL WORN OUT

Does morning find you with a lame, stiff and aching back? Are you tired all the time—find work a burden? Have you suspected your kidneys? Xenia people endorse Doan's Kidney Pills. You can rely on their statements.

Mrs. W. I. Smith, 28 Walnut St., Xenia, says: "A few years ago I had kidney trouble that about used me up. I ached from the small of my back up into the back of my head. I was also dizzy and nervous and every time I did much of anything, I began to get tired out and would be awfully weak. Sometimes, I could hardly do any work. A neighbor advised me to try Doan's Kidney Pills, but as I had tried so many different kidney remedies, I didn't think they would help. She finally persuaded me to give Doan's a trial and they entirely cured me. I have never felt better than since I used Doan's Kidney Pills."

Price 66c., at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Smith had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfgs., Buffalo, N. Y.
